

You're invited to an
EWG Village Bank Benefit Brunch

March 14th - 12:00 – 3:00 p.m.

EWG is joining our sister network, The International Alliance for Women, to support a village bank in rural Pakistan. Village banks make small loans to women who can then start a business to achieve some financial independence and security. Micro lending makes capital available to women who have no other access to credit, and, historically, more than 99% of loans are repaid in full with interest. Entrepreneurship raises women's status and improves their families' lives. Micro lending makes that possible.

Learn more about Pakistan and about village banking at brunch on March 14th.

Speakers

Dayna Shah

(Dayna is an EWG member who has lived in Pakistan. Dayna's spouse currently works for the State of Punjab.)

and

Donna Heivilin

(Donna is a Past President of EWG and of TIAW. She is a founder, along with EWG Past President, Gini Robinson, of TIAW's Microfinance Project.)

THIS IS A POWER BRUNCH – YOUR POWER TO EMPOWER PAKISTANI WOMEN!

There is no cost to attend, but your donation to the TIAW Microfinance Fund will be gratefully accepted. Donations are tax deductible. It takes $5,000 to create a village bank. Donations collected from EWG members will be presented to TIAW at the EWG Conference on March 24th.
